-Fashioning Home

The Rev. Brian mason

Home is where we live and make memories. It's a particular town, city, or farm. When I get to thinking about home I can't help but miss my family. It's hard living so far away. But missing them isn't just a proximity thing. I remember feeling similarly when I lived nearby. And now, when I visit my hometown there is a sense of strangeness. Where once I felt a small sense of recognition in peoples' eyes, I now find an impartial kindness. So, what is it we call home?

-On Transcendentalism

The Rev. Brian Mason

This Sunday's sermon will be an exploration of Transcendentalism, one of the intellectual movements that has informed Unitarian Universalism since it began, in the middle of the 19th Century. Ralph Waldo Emerson, once a rising star in Unitarianism, resigned his Boston pulpit to become, well, Emerson, the sage of Concord, and a founding member of the Transcendental Club. More than a just philosophy, Transcendentalism changed how nature and spirituality are regarded. At its core, Transcendentalism celebrates the goodness of people and the splendor of creation. This morning we will learn how Transcendentalism, and its leaders and sources, inform our religious movement today.

-Spiritualizing the Democratic Life

The Rev. Brian Mason

Columnists and academics, on the left and right of the political spectrum, frequently mention that the America we live in is fracturing. That faith in the citizenry isn't bending, it's all but broken under the pressures of economic inequality, racial division, and political unrest. There is no denying we live in a trying era, with real problems. But democracy isn't just political, it's spiritual and religious. Walt Whitman believed, as David Brooks recently reminded readers in his op-ed, "What Holds America Together," "democracy 'supplies a training school for making first class men.' It is 'life's gymnasium.' It forges 'freedom's athletes' – strong and equal women, courageous men, deep-souled people capable of governing themselves." Democracy, for Whitman, is an adventure requiring not just citizens, but citizen athletes. Perhaps it's time we reclaim and live it as such.

From a Window on Grant

I was delighted when spring's rumored and long-awaited arrival finally took place. I noticed just before the weather turned spring-like the river grew impatient, or at least I assumed so. Even though we were still in the grips of freezing temperatures and 20 plus inches of snow on the ground, the river defiantly shattered its ice and started sending chunks down river.

Furthermore, the migratory birds showed up for the tail end of our snowmageddon, which I think it's safe to conclude they weren't particularly thrilled about. Hearing songbirds and feeling the spring sun while still surrounded by a blanket of snow was a surreal experience for this Midwestern-son. It's a winter I'll never forget. As I was promised by so many of you, winter's grip makes spring's arrival all the more special.

This winter has been an eventful one at church. I've spent a lot of time getting to know the friends and members of our church. That, for me, is the most important aspect of my calling as minister. Ministry is about creating sacred spaces. But equal to that, it's about nurturing healthy relationships. Alongside that, I've also devoted a good portion of time working with the Board of Trustees and Endowment Committee discussing church By-Laws and endowment management strategies.

Doing this kind of detailed work would be dreadful were it not for the talented, engaged, and generous leaders here in our church. The work they've done and continue to do in service to our church is inspiring. I have the utmost faith that our shared efforts will ensure our congregation maintains its current course, which is one of growth, collaboration, and engagement.

UU Wausau is a remarkable place.

It's hard to believe just one year ago, on May 7, all of you called me to serve as minister to this congregation. It was one of the most memorable days of my life. Maybe even more special than my first springtime in Wisconsin. Maybe.

In faith,

Brian

Did you notice anything different about your pledge statement last month? That's because we now have a brand new church management program. All of our internal pledge data was transferred from one program to another, so please check your statement to make sure it matches your records. Rest assured that I have not found any issues, but we can never be too careful with financial data.

The new program is called Realm, and it has many more capabilities than our old program (which we had been working with since 2008). One of those, which we will be rolling out in the near future, is a church app. You will be invited to sign up and from there will not only have access to church members' contact info, but also the ability to change your own info and view your pledge and donation history.

In the meantime, I will be working on a printable directory. Because it will also come from Realm, you can expect that it will look a bit different than what you are used to.

In time, I believe our new program will be an invaluable communication tool for the congregation!

See you in church,

Anji

Religious Education

Religious Education

As we enter the last month of Religious Education classes for the church year (but don't miss our two intergenerational services in June!) I find myself feeling a deep appreciation, as a DRE and a mother, for the volunteer teachers who make each week of RE happen. Twelve of our teachers have volunteered for the entire church year, signing up for all three RE sessions. 12! The entire church year! They didn't teach every Sunday. I think they'd tell you that they felt like they had a good balance of Sundays in the Sanctuary and Sundays in a classroom. But what dedication to the children and youth of our congregation! Can you help me show some appreciation to all of our teachers this month? Perhaps your child(ren) would like to make a card, draw a picture or write a letter to their RE teachers. Maybe you'd like to send some thank you cards yourself. Of course, you can always thank the teachers in person at church. While you're at it ask them what they like about working with our young people. I bet their answer will warm your heart.

Julie,

Director of Religious Education

☛ Bacon Fest Brunch!

Mother's Day is Sunday, May 13 and we will be honoring all Motherly folk with our annual Bacon Fest celebration. Please make plans to brunch after the church service in our dining hall. Eats will begin at 11:30 a.m. Good will donations of $5 are appreciated with all proceeds going to the Women's Community. Mothers eat gratis. Josh Wright is looking for Dads and children to help with food and service. Please contact him (715-212-0999 or josh-uawright888@gmail.com if you are able to assist. Thank you!

☛ Summer Service Leaders Needed

As many of you know, summer services are lay led, covering a wide range of topics generally selected by the leader. We have eleven summer services this year, June 17 - August 26, for which we need leaders. If you have not led a service before, let this be the year you join the ranks of summer service leader. With our varied interests and rich life experiences, all of us have a message worth sharing within us. The Worship and Music Committee is available to lend you assistance if needed. Please contact committee members Randy Jefferson, Jim Maas, or Kay Meyer if you are interested in being a worship leader this summer. Thank you.

☛ Congratulations!

Grace Schuler, daughter of Mark Schuler and Lisa Giordano, was named a 2018 Kohl Excellence Scholar through the Herb Kohl Educational Foundation. Excellence Scholarship recipients have demonstrated excellence in the academic arena and high motivation to achieve, have displayed a broad range of activity and leadership outside the academic setting, and have shown strong promise for succeeding in college and beyond. Grace will receive a $10,000 scholarship from the Kohl Foundation and will be recognized at a special reception .

☛ May Second Friday Nighters

Carol Bronston and Orval Quamme will host an adults only gathering on Friday May 11 at 6pm at their home at 817 Becher Dr., on the SE corner of W. Crocker and Becher Dr. Turn onto Burek from Randolph (turn north) or Campus Drive (turn south) and drive to Crocker. Turn east toward the river and turn right on Becher. To your left will be a light tan brick ranch style house with a solar light post at the driveway.

There are two parking places in front of the garage for people who might have difficulty walking the somewhat long driveway. There is parking on both sides of Becher Dr. and Crocker.

Weather permitting, you can walk to the river by descending a short hill behind the house, crossing the 2016 Jerry Phelan designed and built bridge over a stream and a narrow island. As the evening progresses, you are invited to the lower level of the house for some musical fun with our very own Ray Kraemer on piano with rhythm section and recorded music.

☛ UU Summer Camping Trip

Now that Spring has finally arrived it's time to start thinking about the annual UU camping trip! Greg and Ingrid Zavadoski have 6 sites (plus one group site) reserved from August 17-19 at Franklin Lake campground (10 miles East of Eagle River). With two families per site, the camping cost is approximately $20 per family for the weekend. Meals are shared so that you put your effort into one and relax the rest of the time. Come and swim, kayak, hike, bike, run, or read a book by the continuous campfire.

Email Greg and Ingrid at gzavados@gmail.com to sign up on a first come, first served basis. New members or families with young children are especially encouraged to join us. This event has been a touchstone for several generations of UU families, with some having spent over 11 summers in those woods! Check out photos from the last camping trip here: UU Summer Camping trip 2017.

☛ May Community Focus Collection

Our May Community Focus Collection with go to The Women's Community. Our church has a long history with this organization. Phyllis Birmingham, Josie Paleologue and Pierce and Betty Langlois were part of the first paid staff at the original TWC. They were instrumental in laying the groundwork for the future of TWC in the Wausau area. Since 1976 TWC has helped women in need, providing shelter, counseling, education and advocacy to aid them in getting their lives back. Please be generous in your continued support.

☛ 3 UU Students Plan to Visit China

In October of this school year, Horace Mann Middle School welcomed 24 student visitors and 3 staff members from Zhangjiagang, China. The 24 visitors were matched with Horace Mann students, who became known as "student buddies".

After the student buddies returned to Zhangjiagang, conversations began about bringing students from Wausau to China. We are proud to share that there are 8 students and 2 chaperones planning to visit China in May to experience the culture and spend a couple days in a Chinese school. Of the 8 students going, 3 are from our very own UU congregation: Chloe Maier, Charles Leigh, and Charlie Place.

The students are selling delicious Seroogy's candy bars in a variety of flavors to assist with the cost of the trip. Monies raised through the purchase of candy bars will be split evenly among all students to defray travel costs. Look for candy bar sales in the atrium!

☛ Bird club

In celebration of World Migratory Bird Day, please join the Wausau Bird Club in a spring walk at the Robert W. Monk Gardens, Saturday, May 19, 2018 at 6:30am. This walk is before the Monk Gardens event: the Green Saturday Plant Sale and Garden Flea Market. We will stroll the gardens in search of spring migrants then enjoy shopping for plants and garden items at the flea market. Bring binoculars if you have them! Free event and open to all ages.

☛ Rummage sale

Our Rummage Sale is quickly approaching—June 8 and 9. We can accept donated items the first week of June, but if you have a donation that you must drop off before that, we will find room! Lots of help will be needed with set-up, pricing, sales, and take-down. Please see Anji or Karen Peterson if you would like to help. Our last sale was a fun bonding experience for all who participated, and raised $4,000 for the operating budget!

The Board Table

Let me start by letting you all know about the Downtown Open House on Saturday May 19 sponsored by the Wausau River District from 10 – 4. Our church will again be part of this tour as we were two years ago. We will point out the architectural highlights of our historic building as well as the new atrium so beautifully incorporated into the existing building. Joyce Kurth and I will chair this day and would appreciate some help (1-1 ½ hr. shifts) showing visitors around our building. Please call me (715 573 5839) or Joyce (715 842 0392) to volunteer some time. Thanks

One other note here. On the Sunday we had to cancel services (remember the SNOW!!!) the Community Focus Collection for that day was in support of the Presbyterian Church's proposed Free Clinic. Unfortunately having to cancel and not having the time to reschedule is a disappointment. The CFC committee was excited to bring awareness and financial help to this really good endeavor. Part of our Social Justice outreach into our community is just such a project like the Free Clinic. The Steering committee of the Presbyterian Church has secured early funding for the remodel of the space and they have reach out to local groups and foundations for support. We were so looking forward to being an early supporter. However, until such time that we can reschedule, probably in the fall, if you wish to help them in establishing the Free Clinic please reach out to their pastor, Rachael Wann or Jeffery Todd who is part of the Steering Committee. As always thank you for your generosity this past year, we have raised $4,877, including our Christmas Eve collection. Feel free to contact Joyce Schneider, Jim Maas or me if you have ideas for CFC. We will be meeting in June/July to plan for the 2018/19 year.

MEMORIAL DAY

A UU Prayer by Charles F. Flagg

In honor of those we have known
and loved in the past,
In recognition of the gifts and sacrifices they have made
our behalf,
And in our sincere hopes that we may be worthy of their memory,
We light our candles,
We give our thanks,
And we offer our prayers. AMEN.
