- Take Part in Social Justice

UUC Social Justice Committee

Part of UU Wausau's Social Justice Committee's purpose is to bring light to social justice issues. Our active SJC is taking this opportunity to share with the congregation our efforts toward a campaign for reinstating driver's licenses for undocumented workers in Wisconsin. You'll learn the why and how as we ask for your support in helping live our UU principles. Guest speaker- Andrea Oyuela.

June 9

-Bridging

The Rev. Brian Mason and Julie Trombley, DRE

This Sunday we will celebrate the growth of our congregation's children and youth. This is an opportunity to recognize the young people of our community; to applaud their success thus far, to acknowledge them and to wish them happiness and satisfaction. It is to make sure they know we are with them. All children and youth in the congregation will have the opportunity to participate in our bridging ceremony, following a message from our Director of Religious Education.

June 16

-Flower Communion

The Rev. Brian Mason

At the beginning of summer, in UU churches throughout the world, Flower Communion is celebrated. Flower Communion is an annual intergenerational ritual that celebrates beauty, human uniqueness, diversity, and community. Remember to bring a flower to this service. Any flower will do. Buy one from a florist or a gas station, pick one out of your garden, or even out of your neighbor's yard. Together we will bless the flowers, our year together, and many more to come.

From a Window on Grant

As hard as I try to develop a deep sense of calm and presence of mind, I fail, and far more frequently than I would like. I was thrilled to discover failing-at-being-calm discussed during Krista Tippett's On Being interview with the Jewish-Buddhist teacher and psychotherapist Sylvia Boorstein. Boorstein is the founding teacher of the Spirit Rock Meditation Center and the author of "That's Funny, You Don't Look Buddhist" and "Making Friends with the Present Moment."

Boorstein describes how hard it is to maintain "equanimity," which is what we might also call "composure" or "calm," perhaps even "level-headedness" or "presence of mind." Boorstein says, "I tell people that I could have the most profound equanimity, and I am two words away from losing it completely. Then they say, 'What are those two words?' I'd say, 'Well, you have to understand that first the phone has to ring. Ring, ring and you pick up the phone, and a voice says, 'Hello, Ma?'"

Each of us has our own version of "Hello, Ma?" For you it might be someone you work with who can knock you off balance and destroy your sense of calm and presence of mind. It might be the nightly news, particularly the segments about politics and disaster. Maybe it's your children or parents or self-image that have a tendency to wreck you. And that's okay. All of us struggle. All of us experience pain. All of us try to achieve a presence of mind that will insulate us from the assaults of the world, but none of us are strong enough to keep it going all the time. We're human after all. Heartbreak is only a phone call away.

Boorstein practices Lovingkindness Meditation. What she recommends is that whenever we experience pain or anxiety, we stop for a moment and say to ourselves, "Sweetheart, you are in pain. Relax. Take a breath. Let's pay attention to what is happening. Then we'll figure out what to do."

I know that I will fail to live up to my highest aspirations, and that my presence of mind will, at times, melt away. But I have a choice. We have a choice. So, before you make it, relax, take a breath, and pay attention to what is happening. Then try to figure out what to do.

See you in church,

Brian

Office Space

Hello everyone! I am the new congregational administrator. I have taken over for Anji as she is moving out of state. I'm very thrilled to be in this role and to meet all of you.

My background is mostly in human resources. I have a Bachelor's in Human Resources Management from the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. I also have an Associate's in Supervisory Management from NTC. I've spent a lot of time working in employee relations, benefits, and payroll.

Office hours have been extended. They are now Monday through Thursday from 9AM to 2PM. Please feel free to stop by! I'm always happy to help in anyway that I can.

Best,

Courtney

REflections

I'm looking for volunteers to be in RE classrooms next church year! Do you have some time and energy to give to the children and youth of our congregation? Volunteering in an RE classroom is all about helping children and youth feel welcome and special in our church community. It's about building relationships and offering support. It's taking the time to get to know the kids you're working with and letting them know there are adults in this community who care about them. Can you spare a little time to make a big difference? See the sign-up sheet in the atrium or contact me at julie@uuwausau.org to express your interest. I'll be in touch over the summer to discuss details and what age group might be the best fit for you.

Youth Leadership School

Ruby Fischer, Danika Monarski, Alek Zavadoski, and I would like to thank the congregation for their generous financial support of Youth Leadership School! Through fundraising efforts and direct sponsorships the congregation donated $1,265 toward their tip to Midwest Youth Leadership School July 14th-20th. Thank you for so generously supporting the youth of our congregation! Mark your calendar for August 4th when these youth will lead a summer service and share their Leadership School experiences.

Thanks for a fantastic church year!

Julie

Summer Solstice Contemplative Collage

Friday, June 21, 6:30-9:00 pm

Back again by popular demand! Join us to celebrate the turning of the season. Art-making is a contemplative practice that affects us internally, through our thoughts & emotions, as well as externally, through the creation of object & imagery which can serve as a source of inspiration & healing.

Collage is a playful, eclectic, & liberating medium for any-and-all skill levels.

Bring your favorite beverage and a light snack to share. You're also invited to bring craft paper, old magazines, stamps, or any other potential collage materials that you're willing to share with the group. And of course, still come if you don't have any of those things to contribute.

Minister's Book Club

The minister's book club will read "The Farmer's Son: Calving Season on a Family Farm" by John Connell. We will meet for discussion on Tuesday, June 25, at 6:30 p.m.

☛ SJC Driver's License Campaign

Our letter writing campaign toward passing legislation to reinstate conditional driver's licenses for undocumented workers in WI can use your help. We, along with other churches, hope to flood our representatives in Madison with letters regarding this issue during the month of June. Personal letters to representatives hold much more weight than emails, phone calls or form letters. Spend 5 minutes writing your letter. Paper, envelopes, pens, information, addresses are all provided at the letter writing table in the atrium after church services all month long. Learn the benefits. Learn how you can help. Learn how you can be an ally.

☛ Buddhist Meditation.

Come join us any Saturday at 4:00 PM for 20 minutes of silent meditation followed by tea, readings, and discussion. This group is free and open to the public. Paul Hagstrom, 715.536.9608.

In Loving Memory

Francis Passineau passed away on May 23, 2019. Fran was a 9 year member of UU Wausau.

The Board Table

Happy Spring/almost Summer from the Board of Trustees! It has been a long winter and a slow spring season and I know we are all looking forward to consistently nice weather. Having grown up in the Midwest I am used to our complicated seasons and I have to admit that I welcome them-in all their glory. I have definitely found ways to make the best of each day and to be thankful for the interesting world that Mother Nature creates for us.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees I want to highlight a few things that we are especially thankful for.

-- Once again we had an amazing goods and services auction. This every other year event has become a highlight of our church. It is an amazing time for socialization and gathering. It is also a time to sign up for dinners that continue this socialization well into the next year. It is really a hallmark of our congregation. We offer our special thanks to Jerry Phelan who has been a part of this process probably since its inception. He and the other auction volunteers truly make this event happen.

-- We also offer our thanks to all of our dedicated RE teachers. Throughout the church year they have been instructing and guiding the children and youth of our congregation. This is an invaluable gift! Adult RE teachers have also been offering an array of classes and opportunities for other members of our church. As a small token of our appreciation we will be hosting a breakfast for them on Sunday, June 9. If you see any of our teachers please offer them a hand or a pat on the back. Of course none of their volunteerism would have happened without the extraordinary leadership of Julie Trombley. She is amazing!

-- And how does one say thank you to Anji? Her service and dedication to our church have been something that we all could always count on. Her competence and kindness has set a standard that will be hard to match. We on the board offer her a special thanks for keeping us organized and focused. We truly wish her well in her new community and new endeavors. You will be missed!!

Coin War Results

High school youth raised ~$100 in their coin war this spring. They used that money to purchase high need items for the Women's Community.

2019 UU Goods & Services Auction

The 2019 "Under the Big Top" Goods & Services Auction event is now history; however, we look forward to lots of the resulting events, services, and connections throughout the coming months that will keep this circus flying high. A big THANK YOU to all who contributed, bid, and attended. The auction accounting book never closes, but we are now at $16,500 raised!

There are lots of people who went above and beyond in bidding, contributing, and helping. You know who you are, but here are a few special awards for 2019.

- The Mister Rogers Award, for creatively engaging children in the auction: Christina Priewe (Fashion Fun for a Young One, plus dishes painted by her daughter Charlotte) and Zina Harrington and Sally Schmidt (desserts and cookies made by their daughters).
- The Evil Knieval Award, for a daredevil leap in bid where seemingly unnecessary: shared by Brenda Schumacher, Jody Maier, Greg Zavadoski, and Lanore Rusch (who, after a $327 jump in her absentee bid, didn't even win; be there next time!).
- The Half-K Award, and, yes, this is a fundraising event, so there are no apologies for honoring those who get their invoice and say, "Whoa, how did I manage to spend more than $500!": Anne & Randy Jefferson, Barb & Mark Klinner, Kati & Jody Maier, Leslie Ross, Carolyn and Dan Schaut, Joyce & Jim Schneider, and LeeAnn & Greg Venne.
- The Mostest Hostesses Award is shared by Anna Gresch and Heather Busig. Anna (with help from Barb Drake and Roxann Bornemann) offered two separate dinner events that brought in a total of $937. Heather is involved in three separate food events, including two at the Busig home (with help on the first from Kent Busig, and Kati & Jody Maier; the second gets help from Kent Busig, Jody Krieg, Jeff Leigh, and Ramona Winter-Leigh; and thirdly, Heather is a FUUDIE, so catch her helping at the Food Through the Generations dinner).
- The Bilge Pump Award, for doing way more than your share to keep the auction afloat: Mike Wasilczuk (his kayak raffle brought in $1900 and his two canoe paddles brought in $460).

Thanks to all those who helped put the event together and clean up, including (but not limited to) Laura Syring, Sarah Thurs, Lila Hobson (circus wrangler/decorator extraordinaire), Bart Hobson, Sheryl Hemp, Mike Moen, Marsha Fitzgerald, LeeAnn Venne, Greg Venne, Christina Priewe, Matt Priewe, Erin Verley (a.k.a. Madame Luminita), Heather Busig, Jeannie Russell, Wolfram Weinberg, Anji Spialek, Diane Walker, Karen Peterson, Tim Peterson, and Bill Schumacher. And thanks for the great food by Clint Schultz/Urban Street Bistro.
